

Corporate Policy after Partial Lifting of State of Emergency

The Japanese government decided to partially lift the state of emergency declared under the infectious spread of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). On and after Monday, May 18, for essential business reasons, Mandom Corporation (hereinafter “Mandom”) continues with the work-from-home policy as a rule while adjusting its work shifts/hours to meet the changing circumstances of individual sales offices across the nation.

The factory and logistics management are operating normally as before.

Mandom continues to implement measures flexibly and appropriately to give the highest priority to the health and safety of our customers, business partners and employees.
